

Beloved Sadguru Sri Nannagaru

Happy Guru Poornima to one and all devotees. A short poem expressing gratitude to our beloved Sadguru Sri Nannagaru on the occasion of auspicious Guru Poornima:

You are my best friend who will always assure,
That You are my boatman who will take me ashore;
My biggest struggles were a cakewalk in your company,
My life in your presence was a lovely symphony.

You never allowed me to wail and weep,
But always tried to drive me inside deep;
You are my shepherd and I am your lost sheep,
Into my dark and ignorant life, you always peep.

Ever inspiring me a righteous life to embrace,
Time and distance are never a hurdle for your Grace;
Your preaching is an antidote for my mind's menace,
Completely transforming me, and not just a solace.

My life's sweetest moments are those spent in your presence,
Blessing me with a grasp of this human birth's essence;
Though my tendencies are strong and fierce,
With your gracious eyesight they get pierce.

Blessing the lives of weaklings like me is your sheer Compassion,
Suggesting spirituality in material life is your unmatched dispassion;
Your true or real-nature, I could never understand,
Your intentions when understood, I couldn't withstand.

Of all my sins, you cleansed me,
With Infinite Grace, you blessed me;
Is it ever possible to repay your debt?
I can only express my gratitude instead.
